March 8 Plans

'Space Age' Tone Set For Banquet

Cameron will launch "Space Age" plans for growth and community improvement at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday, March 8, which will install Monroe Fuchs as Chamber President for 1966.

The banquet will be held at the Methodist Fellowship Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m. Alf Jernigan, assistant general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, Longview, will be guest speaker.

A reception for Chamber members and out-of-town guests will precede the banquet in the Chamber's conference room from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., according to outgoing President Forrest Sapp.

Rockets, depicting the Cameron Chamber's plans to launch a concentrated drive for growth and improvement through the Industrial Foundation, will be featured in decorations for the Fellowship Hall.

Banquet committeemen said musical entertainment will be provided by the Barbershoppers of Waco.

A highlight of the evening will be presentation of the McCuilin Civic Award.

Tickets for the banquet are now available through the ticket committee headed by LaVert McKinney and at the Chamber office.

A GOOD 'UN -- Calvin Cobb, in a talk at Rotary this week, recalled:

One cannibal was dining with another cannibal and remarked: "I certainly enjoy your wife's soup."

Came the husband's reply: "So do I, but I'll miss her."

106-106-106

Calvin was making a point that cotton, so long the standard for agriculture economic stability in Milam and other Central Texas counties, is in serious trouble, though its influence is still savored.

Synthetics are cutting a wide swath in an industry apparently riddled by controls, world competition, and a need for new markets in a surplus domestic market.

We read somewhere recently that cotton income turns seven times in a community. That's considerably more than most types of income. But industry is out - researching and out-promoting the cotton industry at present.

Cobb noted that synthetic manufacturers spend about $170 millions a year for research and promotion compared to cotton's $26.5 millions for research and promotion.

He said that a few years hence cotton will probably compete in a better market as the 15-million bale surplus is reduced. And during that time, new markets will be the goal.

106-106-106

His sense of humor is exceeded only by his determined foresight and desire to change the realities into something better.

Temple Challenges City's Former Stars To Benefit Game

Bell Finance All Stars of Temple have challenged Cameron to a basketball game at 7:30 p.m. Friday, February 25 in the Yoe High Gym.

The annual challenge game will benefit the local March of Dimes fund drive.

Some of the local stars expected to play include Cecil Widner, Joe Moehring, Bert Shumate, Byron Wise, Jack Ruzicka, Warren Rinn, Garland Hux, Ray Thompson, Dr. H. B. Halbert, Dub Bryant and Frank Winchester.

The seasoned Bell Finance All Stars have a record of 30 wins this season. Their only losses came in a Houston tournament.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

School Board Calls Meeting Thursday

The Cameron School Board will have a called meeting 2 p.m. Thursday (today) in the Superintendent's office.

Coleman Duncum, spokesman for the Board, said members would consider the resignation of Head Coach George Kirk and screen applications for the position now held by Dr. Herman Brown.

Kirk reportedly will ask the Board to release him from his contract here to accept the head coaching position in the Littlefield Schools on March 1.

Dr. Brown, principal of Ada Henderson and Ben Milam schools and director of the Cameron Title I program, will resign effective August 31. He will join the staff of the Agriculture Education Department at Texas A&M University as associate professor.

Cameron Churches To Observe World Day Of Prayer Fri.

Cameron Churches will join Christian Churches around the world with a World Day of Prayer service at 3 p.m. Friday, February 25, in the First Presbyterian Church

Theme for the service is "You Are My Witness."

The World Day of Prayer is organized by the United Council of Church Women. Mrs. J. L. Callaway, local president, said special projects of the Council for 1966 include training for lay persons and professional workders in the United States and lay training centers and study centers in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Duncum Implement Plans Open House Sunday Afternoon

Duncum Implement of Cameron will hold open house from 2 until 6 p.m. Sunday at the new farm equipment facility on US 77 North.

The farm equipment dealership has been moved to the new location for several weeks. It was formerly located at 105 E. Gillis.

The new center is a 7,200-square-foot building of steel with overhead display facilities at the side of the building. The building is divided into various segments for parts, sales and service.

Coleman Duncum is owner of the business, dealers in John Deere farm equipment.

Jaycee Teams In Membership Drive

Cameron Jaycees will report results of their membership drive at their meeting Tuesday night in the Chamber of Commerce office, according to Jaycee President Rev. Paul McCallum.

Bruce Crook and Charles Moraw head teams to add active members to the local young men's organization which annually sponsors the Toys for Tots, Teen Road-e-o, and other civic projects.

Age limit for the Cameron Jaycees is 21 to 40 for active members.

EXCHANGE STUDENT -- Takahiko Kubo, a student at Yoe High School, pauses near Milam Courthouse. A native of Nishinomiya, Japan, young Kubo, 19, is a senior at Yoe High School and will graduate with the 1966 YHS Class. Governor John Connally named the ICY exchange student "Honorary Texan" in recent months. He is living in the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Bowman, of Cameron.

Takahiko Relates Japan's Similarity

By Frank M. Luecke

He is a quiet, unassuming young man whose grasp of the particulars of his native Japan is subdued somewhat by his interviewer's difficulty in framing good questions.

Takahiko (pronounced Ta-ka-hi-ko as it is spelled) Kubo, 19, also is the second student in the George Bowman household under the International Chrstian Youth Exchange program.

Cameronites will recall Dagmar Von Scheeler of Augsburg, Germany, a student, like Takahiko, at Yoe High School and at home with the Bowman family in 1961.

Unlike Dagmar, Takahiko will graduate with the 1966 Yoe High School senior class. He proudly wears the new class ring and just as proudly, holds the title "Honorary Texan" granted him by Governor Connally a few months ago. Dagmar returned to Germany to continue her studies.

So does Takahiko next summer, to a Japan that has a great deal more in common with the United States than most other nations.

MANY SIMILARITIES

In fact, since the new Japanese Constitution of 1946, Takahiko finds the same national pasttime, baseball, at home and in America, only one of hundreds of interests shared by the two industrial nations.

Home is Nishinomiya, Japan, some 320,000 people in a kind of suburban city between neighboring cities of two million or more, Kobi and Osaka.

His home is large tile-roofed home, surrounded by a brick wall topped with an iron fence. And his parents are Jiro Kubo, about 45, and a second generation baby-ware wholesaler, and Mrs. Kubo, about 41. He has a brother, Yukihiko, 14, a junior high student. And his grandmother, Yone, about 70, lives with his family.

Showing pictures of the family residence, Takahiko reveals familiar scenes. His father is an amateur photographer who has won prizes for his work. And there are pictures throughout a house more Western than one might expect.

Takahiko is the only Christian (Episcopalian) in his family and is a member of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. His grandmother practices Shinto, and Buddhism is a part of the family tradition. There is a shrine in the home.

Takahiko's pictures show his involvement in the Christian church. They show church retreats and gatherings he attended with other students and missionaries.

Rockdale Rites For John Weed

John Michael Weed Sr., 75, died in Rockdale Monday night. In charge of the Rockdale Sun Valley Lignite Mine for many years, he played an active role in the political and civic life of Rockdale and Milam County.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday (today) at Phillips and Luckey Funeral Home in Rockdale. Burial will be in the Oak Lawn Cemetery.

Weed moved to Rockdale in 1925 as mining engineer for Sun Valley and operated the Milam County mine until it was sold to Aluminum Company of America. Since Alcoa's ownership of the mine, Weed had acted as a special consultant for the company.

Born August 5, 1890, in Del Rio, Weed was a veteran of World War I and had worked on the Panama Canal construction. He married the former Lu Elizabeth Henning Oct. 23, 1919, in San Antonio. He served as chairman of the local draft board during World War II, was a Democratic precinct chairman and a past president of the Rockdale School Board.

Surviving are his wife of Rockdale; one son, John Michael Weed Jr. of Rockdale; one daughter, Mrs. Wood Blakemore Kyle of Austin; one brother, Thomas Judson Weed of Washington, D. C.; two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Ellwood and Mrs. Katherine Uhl of San Antonio,

4.5-Inch Snowfall Melting In Milam

SCHOOLS CLOSE, ROADS ROUGH WEDNESDAY A.M.

Rain topped by sleet and snow threw a blanket over Milam County as temperatures dropped to 25 degrees early Wednesday, creating hazardous driving conditions and closing county schools.

Warmer temperatures had melted a large percentage of snow on streets and highways by presstime.

City officials reported 4½ inches of snow fell in Cameron Tuesday night.

Highway Patrolman Leroy Broadus said that all roads in the county were open as of late Wednesday, but he added that extreme caution should be observed when driving.

He reported only two minor accidents due to weather conditions in Milam County.

All Cameron schools were closed as well as Milano, Buckholts, Maysfield, Rosebud, Burlington, Rockdale, Gause, Branchvilde and Thorndale. Opening of schools today would depend on road conditions, officials said.

The weather seems to vary little as a check back in Herald files shows area schools closed last February 24 because of rain, sleet and snow. This was followed by a 4 inch snow on March 3, 1965.

City Water Supt. Alvin Hefft said temperatures dropped from a spring-like 72 degrees Sunday to a low of 26 degrees Monday.

Official temperatures recorded were:

Program Announced For Symphony Here On March 7

The March 7 Central Texas Symphony program will include both modern musical and symphonic works for the Cameron audience.

Dr. James Luck, orchestra director, said the two-part, hour program, scheduled 8 p.m. Monday, March 7, at National Guard Armory, will include: "Peachtree Promenade" from the Atlanta Suite" by Don Gillis; "Toccata" by Frescobaldi-Kindler; "The Sound of Music" by Rodgers and Hammerstein; the three-movement Symphony No. 2" by Giannini.

Tickets are available in advance reserved seat sales from members of the Cameron Three Arts Club, according to Mrs. Robert Ellett, club president. Tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for children.

It is the first time in recent city history that a symphony orchestra has appeared here.

The Cen-Tex Symphony orchestra is comprised of about 50 musicians, including Christy Clark, of Cameron and Linda Davis, of Rockdale. Concertmaster is Roy W. Hedges, of Temple.

First of the Orchestra's 1966 programs will be Sunday afternoon March 6, at Marshall Hall in Temple's Cultural Activities Center.

The Orchestra includes a 21-member string section, piano, 11-piece woodwind section, 12-piece brass and three-member percussion sections.

Personnel are from nine cities and towns in the Central Texas area.

A reception for Orchestra personnel will follow the concert. Members of the Central Texas Symphony Board will be special guests during the evening.

THE RISCHAR HOUSE

Home Guarding Memory Of Era

A stately old home on East Seventh St., its columns silhouetted by tall pecan trees, now stands like a sentry.

The Rischar House originally built by P. O. Adams in 1911, guards the memory of that era of Cameron development when such a home signified the stature of the early 20th Century business or professional man.

The home at North Jackson and East Seventh St. is identified with the name of Dr. E. Rischar, who some years ago willed the then Rischar Hospital to the Order of Catholic Nuns, still directing the facility as St. Edward's Hospital.

Dr. Rischar and Dr. W.R. Newton Sr., were associated in this first modern Cameron hospital. Sometime later, Dr. Newton, Sr., and Dr. Rischar divided their interests and Dr. Rischar continued to operate the facility. Miss Rose Rischar, his sister, and a registered nurse, assisted in the management.

BUILT IN 1911

Adams, an associate of W. H. Triggs in wholesale and retail knit goods business, built the home in 1911 Their business was located in part of the building now occupied by Hornung Bros. Hatchery, recalls history consultant John B. Henderson, Sr.

Later, Adams was a traveling salesman, and his family continued to live in the home until 1929, when they sold it and moved to Waco. The Adams were active here in civic and business affairs and the Methodist Church.

Jack Adams, a son, moved to Lampasas instead of with the family to Waco, where he is now postmaster. Elizabeth Adams, a daughter, is a teacher in San Antonio, and another daughter, Louise Adams, is a teacher in Waco.

SON EXECUTIVE

Mrs. Adams lived with her daughter in Waco until her death. Her youngest son, George Adams, is now a vice-president of American-Amicable Life Insurance Co. and a resident of Waco.

Another son, Arthur, also is in business in Waco.

The home was purchased in 1929 by R. G. Lyon, a dry goods merchant here at that time. He a few years later sold the home to Dr. Rischar and his sister. Lyon's business was in the old "Yoe Building" at First and Houston Sts., now occupied by Irving's Dept. Store.

A niece of the Rischar family now resides in the home.

Methodists Start Remodeling Program

The First Methodist Church has announced plans to restore and waterproof the exterior of the Church building in the first step of a two or three year remodeling and modernization program.

Rev. Richard Freeman, pastor, said a priority of projects has been established by the Official Church Board and the congregation in a church conference, in preparation for the 125th anniversary of the church in 1972.

Rev. Freeman said the finance campaign for the work is 80 percent complete and invitations to bid are being mailed this week.

The present Church building was built in 1921.

Council Meets Briefly Tuesday

City Secretary Buddy Fuller reported that the City Council met Tuesday evening in a brief session to approve bills and hear reports.

Fuller said no new business was introduced. He also reported no new filings in the upcoming city election. Mayor Bassel Wilson and Councilmen Lester Turner and R. G. Wells have filed for re-election. Filing deadline for the April vote is midnight March 5.

'65 Milam Review ....

$278,306 Paid In Taxes

The 1965 ad valorum tax collections in Milam County totaled $278,306.15, according to the 1965 financial report recently released by J. C. Andres, county auditor.

Collections were based on a 95-cent per $100 valuation, same for the previous year, of a Milam County tax valuation of $31,551,305, the report showed.

During 1965, distribution of tax money was divided among five basic county funds in the following amounts: jury fund, .02; general fund, .35; courthouse and jail improvement, .05; road bridge fund, (four precincts), .38; and road and bridge special, .15. An additional .42 cents was added to the county total for a combined state and county rate of $1.37.

GENERAL FUND

Auditor Andres showed a total in general fund revenue of $137,202.85 added to a Jan. 1, 1965 balance of $71,443.56 for a total annual balance and revenue of $208,646.41. General fund warrants totaled $124,820.85 during 1965, leaving a Dec. 31, 1965 balance of $83,825.56.

The Jury Fund showed income from taxes of $5,757.59 added to a Jan. 1, 1965 balance of $22,582.86, less disbursements of $6,935.15 for a Dec. 31 balance of $21,405.30

The courthouse and jail improvement fund doubled its balance during 1965 with revenue of $15,321.35 added to a Jan. 1, 1965 balance of $13,421.73. Disbursements were $2,192.86, leaving a Dec. 31 balance of $26,550.22.

The officers salary fund showed revenue of $118,435.20, including a transfer of $21,000 from the general fund, less salary disbursements of $109,421.45 for a Dec. 31, 1965 balance of $9,013.75. The Jan. 1, 1965 balance was zero.

R&B FUND

The road and bridge fund showed a Dec. 31, 1965 balance of $96,009.72, a gain of some $16,000 from the first of the year. Revenue of $125,369.52, including $77,550.49 from taxes and $37,983.31 from the state lateral road fund, brought total funds in the R&B fund during the year to $205,457.85. Expenditures, including four commissioners salaries of $21,120 and transfers to the four precinct budgets of $86,783.31, totaled $109,448.13.

By precinct, commissioner precincts showed:

PRECINCT I, Adolph Gresak, a Jan. 1, 1965 balance of $22,828.92 plus revenue of $51,835.46, less expenditures of $51,686.61 for a Dec. 31 balance of $22,977.77.

PRECINCT II, Lavert McKinney, a Jan. 1, 1965 balance of $12,522.26 plus revenue of $84,050.63, less expenditures of $84,800.43 for a Dec. 31 balance of $11,772.46.

PRECINCT III, Albert Timmerman, Sr., a Jan. 1, 1965 balance of $21,268.77 plus revenue of $92,379.05, less expenditures of $90,311.35 for a Dec. 31 balance of $23,336.47.

PRECINCT IV, Richard H. McCasland, a Jan. 1, 1965 balance of $13,718.63 plus revenue of $72,290.42, less expenditures of $82,378.67 for a Dec. 31 balance of $7,630.38.

Total of the nine balances of funds at Dec. 31, including $3,307.79 for social security, was $305,829.42, the Milam Financial Report showed.

Another $1,572.35 of sinking funds in seven old road districts and a Hefley Improvement District was also listed.

Warrant indebtedness outstanding at Dec. 31 totaled $27,400, down from $35,774 at the beginning of 1965. A total of $19,374 in warrants were paid in road and bridge funds Nos. 2 and 3. A warrant for $11,000 was issued durnig the year.

The list of securities owned as of Dec. 31 included bonds at interest rates varying from 1.7 to 6 per cent in 13 separate issues. They totaled $77,300. Officials point out a certain amount of county funds are requried to be invested in such public issues.

A permanent school fund showed a balance of $403.40 and a City of Rockdale road district security held at 4 per cent showed a par value of $10,000.

STATE TAXES

State ad valorum taxes collected were a net of $106,225.49 and were dispersed as follows: $97,031.26 to the State Treasury, $10.86 for state aid, $3,287.22 collection fees, and $5,896.48 assessing fees.

Motor vehicle registration in Milam County during 1965 totaled another $256,359.04, which was divided: $99,597.68 to the Texas Highway Dept., $148,232.96 to four commissioner precincts, and $8,528.40 to tax collection-assessment fees.

Texas Tourist Agency Reports Success For Vacationland Theme

AUSTIN

Bore visitors than ever before discovered the attractions of Vacationland Texas last year.

So the Texas Tourist Development Agency reported to Governor John Connally today following its annual survey of attendance figures drawn from 22 representative tourist attractions over the state.

Attendance overall was up 13 per cent over 1964, Frank Hildebrand, the agency's executive director, advised the governor. Total admissions soared by 3,449,000 visitors to a record total of 30,403,000 in 1965, he said.

The agency is a tax-supported arm of the state's executive department. It is charged with seeking new income for Texas through advertising and promotion of its charms to pleasure travelers.

Dramatic increases were logged across the spectrum of Texas attractions surveyed in 1965. Biggest percentage gain was marked by the Bishop's Palace on Galveston Island, where admissions swelled by 59 per cent over the year before.

Big Bend National Park was not far behind, with 174,566 vacationers representing an increase of 46 per cent over 1964 attendance.

Six Flags Over Texas, the Dallas Fort Worth theme park, cinched its claim as the most popular commercial tourist stop in Texas, reporting 1,713,000 visitors. The figure represented 446,000 more guests than were reported for the year by San Antonio's Alamo, which nevertheless marked a 10 per cent gain over 1964 attendance.

At San Marcos the Aquarena entained 425,000 visitors during the year, an increase of 13 per cent over 1964.

Significantly, both Six Flags Over Texas and Aquarena reported sizeable gains among out-of-state visitors, pegging outlander attendance at 24 and 27 per cent respectively. Additionally, Aquarena cited "an exciting increase" in the number of tourists from Mexico.

Pointing to more than 200,000 visitors, a 30 per cent increase, at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, TTDAnoted rising popularity of Texas cultural attractions.

Places of historical interest showed marked gains, too, with the Old Stone Fort of Nacogdoches reporting a 41 per cent gain and storied Fort Davis National Historic Site in the Davis Mountains showing a 13 per cent increase in admissions. Attendance at the Southwestern Historical Wax Museum at Dallas Fair Park was up 20 per cent for the year.

Numerically, TTDA said, the outdoors proved popular among surveyed attractions in 1965. Two causeways at either end of Padre Island shared a total of 2,174,000 visitors, a year's gain of 15 per cent, and water lovers numbering a record 8,900,000 accounted for an increase of 9 per cent at Lake Texoma.

MEKINOCK, N.D.

Master Sergeant Walter R. Schattle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schattle of Rt. 1, Cameron, has been awarded the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Grand Forks AFB, N.D. This is the second time he has received the reward.

Sergent Schattle received the medal for meritorious service.

He is a member of the Strategic Air Command which maintains America's constantly alert force of intercontinental missiles and jet bombers..

The sergent attended C. H. Yoe High School.

New Maintenance Program Planned For Cameron Schools

Cameron School Supt. D. R. Dodson announced changes in custodial duties to improve building and grounds maintance in the local system.

Under the new system the school will employ a supervisor of housing and grounds at a salary of $4,200 annually with housing furnished by the school. The 12 month job would be to over-see all buildings and grounds during the school months, help keep Ben Milam building in the summer and work and organize summer repair and maintenance.

A couple would be employed for Yoe, Ada Henderson and O.J. Thomas schools at a salary of $4,000 covering a 12 month job for the husband and 9 month job for the wife. The husband would also drive a bus route and the wife would work in the cafeteria the major part of the day.

A custodian for the gymnasium and shops, on a 12 month employment basis would be paid $2,400. The new program would also include employment of a maid for Ben Milam School on a 9 month basis at a salary of $900.

In the past each building has had a custodian working under the supervision of the building principal.

Channel Work To Start On Brushy Creek

Gus Lundelius, presdient of Brushy Creek Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 of Williamson and Milam Counties, announced today that the way is now clear to proceed with the channel improvement phase of tn project of the District.

The final easements were signed recently clearing the way for the work to begin.

The first segment to be constructed will commence at the point where Brushy Creek runs into the San Gabriel River and will proced upstream to farm to market road No. 908. The distance is approximately 3.5 miles.

The work will consist of clearing brush and trees, enlarging and straightening the channel. This part of the project is of major importance, since the lower end of Brushy Creek is clogged with brush and the chanel has silted in. This situation causes frequent overflows over the vast bottomland area. Crops, livestock, fences and roads suffer major damage from each overflow.

The 58 flood retarding dams and the 42 miles of channel improvement planned for the project are expected to control all but the most severe floods on Brushy. Todate 35 dams have been completed, two are presently under construction and 6 additional sites are cleared and ready for construtition as soon as contracts for constructions can be let.

Members of the board of directors of the Brushy Creek Water Control and Improvemnet District are most grateful to the landowners involved for donating the necessary easements for the first segment of the channel improvement program and are greatly pleased that this phase of the project, which is so vital, can now be commenced when funds become available.

TAKAHIKO—

three grades. They compete in practically all the American sports and in Judo, Sumo wrestling and other Japanese athletics as well. But baseball still rates as the national pasttime.

An enthusiastic collector of various records, Takahiko enjoys going to foreign movies in Japan. And it is possible for students in Nishinomiya to commute by train to nearby Kobi or Osaka to see Kabuki, the classical Japanese National Theatre.

His studious nature is reflected in the fact that he has made the Yoe High School honor roll during the past semester. His facility with English is better understood when he explains that English is the only Occidental language universally taught in private and public schools in Japan.

"I am undecided," Takahiko says, "about what I want to study at the University," also a part of the junior high and high school campus he has been attending for six years. "I am thinking of taking either economics or psychology. My father wants me to continue in the family business."

ONE DIFFERENCE

One difference between American and Japanese people was suggested by Takahiko. Japanese seem to move around their populous country less. His grandmother is from Yamamoto, but two generations of his family have stayed in Nishinomiya. The average American family now moves once each three years.

Takahiko expresses no great interest in politics or conflict, possibly typical of his generation which, he says, is not interested in fighting. World War II is not forgotten.

His father, in fact, served in the infantry with the Japanese Army in North China. But Takahiko notes his father, like most veterans, says little about the war.

Takahiko has the presence of a much more mature man, and the calm openness of an inquiring mind. Dr. and Mrs. Bowman and their children and his fellow students at Yoe High School, must enjoy the quiet company he provides.

Planning Continues On Rogers Title I Program, Teachers Named

ROGERS

In a special meeting called to continue work on the Title I program of the Rogers Public Schools, the School Board Monday night elected Miss Hazel Randolph to teach in the elementary school and B. B. Thomas to be visiting teacher. Miss Randolph is a graduate of Paul Quinn and Mr. Thomas is a graduate of Baylor University.

The Board approved the location of two pre-fabricated buildings that have been leased for Title I program and are due to be moved onto the campus by March 1, and awarded a contract to National Building Center of Rogers to convert part of a classroom in the junior high wing of the main building into an office suit for the counselor and visiting teacher and the guidance program.

The Board employed Drs. Dorothy Bracken and Hazel Carroll of Southern Methodist University as consultants in the developmental reading program. Rogers reading teachers and director will spend a week in March at SMU in a reading workshop with these professors, and then from time to time the consultants will visit the school program in Rogers.

Mrs. Ernestine Brown Powell, head teacher of the Burks Elementary School in Rogers, will become the first elementary librarian of the school system. The Rogers Elementary School will switch from classroom libraries to a central library. The library will be housed in one of the newly-leased buildings. Also, Mrs. Nancy Nabours will become one of the reading teachers and Mrs. Bessie LaVerne Harris will take the first grade room for the rest of this year.

DR. WARREN ROBERTS

Dr. Roberts To Speak At Texas Exes Dinner

The Eyes of Texas Exes in Milam County will focus on tha annual Texas Independence Day celebration March 2 at Cameron Country Club. Dr. Warren Roberts will be speaker for the 7:30 p.m. dinner which will be sponsored by the University of Texas local Ex-Student's Association. Dr. Robert's is director of The University of Texas Humanities Research Center and is an associate professor of English. He is the author of "A Bibliography of D. H. Lawrence," published in London in 1963, and collaborated with Prof. V. de Sola Pinto of the University of Nottingham England, in editing Lawrences complete poem, also published in London in 1963. He was a Fulbright lecturer in American studies in Italy from 1956 to 1958.

Slides of the 40 Acres will be shown at the dinner to bring those attending up to date on the new Alumni Center and recent additions to the U. T. Campus.

James Kahler, Chairman of the party's steering committee, said that all are former students and friends of The University of Texas are welcome to attend, even though they are not members of The Association.

Door "SurPrises" with an orange flavor will be awarded and officers for the coming year are to be elected.

Milam Republicans Endorse Tower Stand

The Milam County Republican Executive Committee in a meeting last week commended U.S. Senator John Tower for the part he played in saving Texas' right-to-work law by helping to block repeal of Section 14-b of the Taft-Hartley Act.

James E. Luckey, committee chairman, said the resolution read in part:

". . . The Executive Committee of the Republican Party of Milam County congratulates Senator Tower for his important contribution in saving the Texas right-to-work law and recognizes in him again the proven leadership ability of this outstanding Texan in the United State Senate."

Texas is one of 19 states which have right-to-work laws that prohibit the compulsory union shop.

Grady Allen Announces For Re-Election

In announcing my candidacy for re-election in the coming Democtic Primary to the office of District Clerk of Milam County, I would like to express my appreciation to the voters of the county for their friendship and support in the past.

The people elected me to this office in 1944, and I have held it continuously since then, having had opposition on only one occasion. When first elected, I pledged that I would to the best of my ability conduct the business of my office promptly, and efficiently, and that I would serve the public courteously and fairly. This I have constantly endeavored to do during the twenty-one years that I have held this office.

I again pledge that I will strive in the coming term to merit your support and good-will. And again I wish to thank the people of Milam County for having honored me in the past with their friendship and cooperation.

Grady Allen
District Clerk

Cox To Judge Band Contest At Tex - City

Francis Cox, director of the Yoe High School Band, will be a judge in the University Interscholastic League, Region XI, Solo and Ensemble playing contest in Texas City Saturday.

The contest will feature several thousand young players from junior high and high schools in that region. Cox will be among 25 judges from all over the state.

Brubeck, Fountain, Getz To Headline Austin Jazz Festival

AUSTIN

The greatest array of jazz talent ever assembled in Texas will be in Austin April 2-3 at Disch Field to present the first annual Longhorn Jazz Festival.

Among the headliners signed by producer George Wein are tenor saxists John Coltrane and Stan Getz, baritone saxist Gerry Mulligan, the Dave Brubeck Quartet and the Pete Fountain Quartet with Bobby Hackett.

Coltrane and Getz will both occupy spots on the Sunday night, April 3, program to give festival audiencies a rare opportunity to compare the distinctive styles of the two saxists unanimously regarded as the foremost tenorists of the day.

Lined up for the festival's opening concert Saturday night, April 2 are the Brubeck foursome.

Miss Chamberlain Is Guest Of Stars

Miss Cheryl Chamberlain, a freshman at TWU, Denton and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.G. Chamberlain, Cameron, spent an evening in Dallas last week that she will long remember.

Miss Chamberlain and Texas Womans University classmates, Miss Julie Gray and Miss Luanne Sterling, were guests of Bob Findley, featured trumpet player in the Tommy Dorsey Band Thursday, Febraury 17. After dinner in the Adolphus Hotel they rode to the State Music Hall with the band where they were given complimentary tickets to the Frank Sinatra, Jr. Show. During intermission they had an opportunity to meet Sinatra and the other performers.

Following the show the TWU classmates were escorted back to Denton by Findley and former Miss Texas, Diane Wisdom.

Versatile Dust Developed by Scientists

Researchers have discovered a new method of protecting houses and apartments against roaches and a hundred other insects for the lifetime of the occupants.

Professors of entomology said that a new dust called "Amorphous Silica Gel" has been developed that is harmless to humans and animals but lethal to termites, cockroaches, silverfish and a hundred other insects. The dust literally dries the insects to death by removing a protective wax on their bodies and causing death through evaporation of body moisture.

Once applied it can last indefinitely without losing it's ability to kill pests.

New Uses For Grain Sorghums Now Under Study At Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION

Work is underway at Texas A&M University to find new uses for grain sorghum, one oih the state's major cash crops already known for its versatility.

Any additional way to utilize the grain is expected to benefit the sorghum production industry in Texas because farmers are now planting about 6 million acres each year in the crop. United States acreage is more than 20 million acres annually.

Sorghum is exceeded only by rice and wheat as a world food crop and ranks third as a grain crop behind wheat and corn in the U. S.

Texas grain sorghum is used mostly in livestock and poultry feeds at present. But now agricultural scientists at A&M are devoting more time to finding new ways of adapting the grain to industrial consumption, human foods in particular

One of the researchers, Dr. Lloyd Rooney of the A&M Soil and Crop Sciences Department, said the biggest obstacle to developing new uses is the grain's wide variation in quality. The project's overall purpose is to find ways to correct the situation.

Principal grain sorghum uses now, other than for feeds, are wet milling into starch, oil and various by-products. Six to eight million bushels per year of Texas-grown grain goes this route.

Rooney says sorghum starch can easily substitute for corn starch, although cost and processing techniques can be limiting factors.

In dry milling, current grain sorghum products are flour, bran and grits. The flour goes into wallboard, brewing to a limited extent, sizing in textile mills and metal casting, and oil well drilling mud.

Potential uses, Rooney says, including such food products as bread, chips, candy and syrups.

Sorghum grits hold much promise for the brewing industry, but again the limiting factor is lack of quality and uniformity, the researcher emphasized. The grits must compete with well established brewing ingredients.

Other potentials for the starch are paper, textiles, laundry starch, plastics, cosmetics and glue. Some varieties of the whole grain can be popped like popcorn.

In all cases, grain sorghum's major competition as from carn, Rooney pointed out.

Rooney is now busy setting up laboratories and other facilities to study the sorghum quality puzzle.

"The first objective is to arrive at some concept of quality. Then we'll try to establish a system to predict quality and to devise methods which plant breeders can use in developing desirable varieties," he said.

Rooney added that the project is generating considerable interest among sorghum producers and other members of the overall industry who look forward to the time when the grain can match wheat and corn in world-wide usage.

Texas Livestock Increase In No. And Value

COLLEGE STATION

Texas farmers and ranchers went counter to those in the nation by increasing their holdings of cattle, sheep, hogs, goats, and chickens as compared to a year ago.

Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University, said figures released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service on February 14 revealed the increases.

Cattle numbers increased by 3percent during 1965 to 10,546,000 head on January 1, 1966. The nation showed a decrease of 1 percent in cattle numbers, he said. Improved range forage and small grain pastures coupled with a larger calf crop and larger inshipments and smaller outshipments account for the increase, Uvacek said. The state's total cattle population is valued at $1,213 million.

Sheep numbers in Texas increased by 8 percent during the past year; hogs by 7 percent; goats 9 percent; chickens 1 percent and turkeys 66 percent. Nationally, the specialist said the report showed a 4 percent decline for all hogs and pigs on farms; 1% fewer lambs and sheep; 1 percent fewer chickens (excluding broilers); a 6 percent decline in number of dairy animals and a 6 percent increase in turkey numbers. These figures, he said, are all based on January 1, 1966 inventories.

Beef cows and heifers two years years and older in Texas totaled 5,094,000 head, down 1 percent from a yr. ago but beef heifers 1-2 yrs. old increased by 5 percent; calves on hand Jan. 1 increased by 9 percent and steers over 1 year old increased by 28 percent.

The 486,000 head of milk cows in Texas on January 1 was 7 percent below the previous year and followed the national trend.

Texas sheep numbers, all sheep and lambs, on January 1 were estimated at 5,154,000 head; goats and kids numbered 4,425,000 head; hogs numbered 752,000 head; farm chickens - excluding broliers - totaled 15,610,000 birds and turkeys 652,000 head.

Uvacek said the Reporting Service placed a total value of $1,361 million on the January 1 inventories of livestock and poultry in Texas, up 28 percent from a year earlier.

Organic Matter: Fat Of The Land

By J. D. Moore

Just what is organic matter and what part does it play in a productive soil? Organic matter is the storehouse of plant nutrients in the oil. It is often referred to a "the fat of the land." Organic matter results from the decomposition of plant and animal materials by soil organisms. On the average it contains about 58 per cent carbon and 5 per cent nitrogen.

Organic matter improves soil structure and its ability to take water and hold it in storage for later use by plants. It also improves soil aridation, loosens dense, compact soils and granulates loose, open sandy soils to give them a friable crumb structure.

Organic matter exerts a strong influence on the exchange capacity of the soil, and also acts as a buffer to prevent rapid change or fluctustions in soil acidity or alkalinity.

During the decomposition process, a continuous supply of carbon dioxide, nitrogen in various forms, phosphorus and other nutrients so essential to plant growth are liberated. Organic matter serves as a storage facility for mineral nutrients such as calcium, magnesium, nitrogen, and many others making them less likely to be lost in drainage or water seepage. It also makes the soil more favorable for vigorous, rapidly developing root systems of young plants.

Cntinuous cultivation without giving attention to regular additions of residues gradually lowers the organic matter in the soil. The level may become so low that maximum production cannot be obtained. A soil test will show the organic level in the soil.

Rotation For Field Crps

Cotton, small grain and maize work well as a rotation for soil improvement. A legume crop is even better. Continuous cotton grown on many of our blackland fields have resulted in a low organic matter content. With the use of commercial fertilizer to speed up the "break down" of crop residues, better crop yields are evident following soil management practices.

1Countywide Cotton Meeting . . .

The annual countywide cotton production meeting will be held next Thursday night, February 24, beginning at 7:30 at the Vo-Ag building in Cameron.

Fred Elliott and his team from A&M will discuss chemical weed control, insect control and harvesting and ginning for better grade and staple.

Those interested in the cotton industry are urged to attend.

Armed Forces Will Fill Largest State Quota In March Call

AUSTIN

State draft boards are scheduled to forward 5,515 young men for preinduction mental and physical examinations in March, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced Tuesday.

This compares with a scheduled 8,640 being forwarded in February.

The March induction quota, 1,570, previously announced, is the biggest monthly draft quota received for the armed forces in Texas since June 1953.

The March induction quota of 1,570 compares with a February call of 1,372.

Local board quotas for induction and preinduction examination in March already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

Men as young as 18 years and 11 months may be ordered to fill the March call for examination.

No man can be ordered for induction unless he has reached his 19th birthday, except as a volunteer.

The March quota for induction will be filled with single and childless married men 19 through 25 years old.

No married man with children, or an expected child, will be selected to fill the March call, if information about the children, or unborn child, has been furnished the draft board.

The Selective Service regulations demand that an unborn child be certified by a physician.

SCD Commends Ira Burns As Outstanding Conservation Rancher

A Milam County farmer, Ira L. Burns of Baileyville, was named Outstanding Rancher of the Central Tex. Soil Conservation District at a recent Soil Conservation Banquet in Temple. Anton Moraw of the North Elm Community, cited many times for his conservation work, was reconized for having the Best Maintained Farm in the district.

Burns operates about 1200 acres of grassland in Baileyville where he has a cow-calf operation. No newcomer to soil conservation, he has been carrying out a conservation program in cooperation with the Central Texas SDC for a number of years. Much of his lush pastureland was old cotton fields ten years ago.

Wayne Mann of the local SDCsaid Burns rolling, hilly land took a real beating from water erosion while it was in production of new crops. "Today, under Burn's management these old cotton fields are an ocean of coastal and common bermudagrasses and erosion is a thing of the past on this ranch unit."

Burns believes that a rancher must be a grasslands manager because the cattle he sells are a by-product of the grass which he grows on his lands.

Burns is active in both community and church activities. He is a director of the Pond Creek Watershed Authority and has been instrumental in promoting the Baileyville water system.

He and his wife Florine have two children, Ellison Burns, a student at Texas A&M University and Suzy Burns, a sophomore at Rosebud High School.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.

Play the nation's newest numbers game. Check your car's registration number. It could be worth $2332 cash to you.

($2332 also happens to be the price of a new Buick Special*. Isn't that a coincidence?)

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS: Check that car registration of yours. If the first symbols of your vehicle identification number on it match up with one of those listed at the right, you might have won yourself $2,332 cash. No slogan to invent, no puzzle to solve. To find out for sure if you won, just hop down to your nearest Buick dealer's. He's got a list of complete winning numbers posted. (No, you don't have to own a Buick to have a winning number.) If your complete vehicle identification number appears on his list—you're in the money.

Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P. O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Entries must be postmarked before midnight, Thursday, March 31, 1966. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

To Contain: Hawk Or Dove?

As the Senate hearings take the expert pulse of Administration and military, the voices of Senators Fulbright and Robert Kennedy are joined in recommending a coalition of Viet cong. and South Vietnamese in a popularly elected government.

It is recommended out of a sense of "realism", the Senators say. In opposition, Senator Long of Louisiana compares the proposal "with locking the fox in the chicken house."

The theory of containment, which is final justification for the U.S. position in South Vietnam, would have serious limitation if a new civilian South Vietnamese government would share leadership with communists or Viet cong.

The great problem is that South Vietnam has little or no experience in self government in our terms. They have had leadership descending from a combination of native aristocracy and French colonialism, and the populous influence of the Buddhist religion.

What the South Viets propose now is free elections sometime in the future with the military now in power unable to contend for election.

All this seems to acknowledge that we can contain the Vietcong or are containing them, and can dominate with additional force on land and overhead. It is likely the "hawks" will bear branches of peace, and the "doves" will again, as in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, step aside.

Having shared in that ultimate confrontation, Senator Kennedy would seem to have forgotten the resulting diminution of Soviet international influence and Khrushchev's ouster. In effect, Khrushchev bluffed and lost.

The Vietnam decision, surely President Johnson's most vexing, could be analogous. Should he flex our military muscle and force peace talks with Hanoi, dedicated Communist Ho Chi Minh would lose a struggle of a lifetime. Should the President witness a Saigon coalition government, the Vietcong would gain a niche inside the West's Wall of Containment.

One fairly might ask if the President of United States should have that influence in another nation's affairs. One might, as well, ask if the inevitable revolution of such communist influence would help South Vietnam's self-determination. Africa's Kenyatta, half a world away rejects Communist aid or influence, both Chinese or Russian.

Ho Chi Minh, North Vietnam's leader is a contemporary of Red China's militant Mao. And we, or anyone, would be negligently naive to believe that Ho Chi Minh, given opportunity, would settle for less than communist control in both Saigon and Hanoi.

Thus it is difficult, in this complex Asiatic menage, to imagine any course but to press for peace talks on our terms, and hope, as in Cuba, that Ho Chi Minh's militancy, like Khrushchev's, would be his undoing.

A more "dovelike" course could abandon a theory of containment that frustrates the old order of Communism these 20 years past.

If Not Revival, What?

When one once wrote of a renaissance in this small town newspaper, as we did a few years ago, one was considered a vague dreamer.

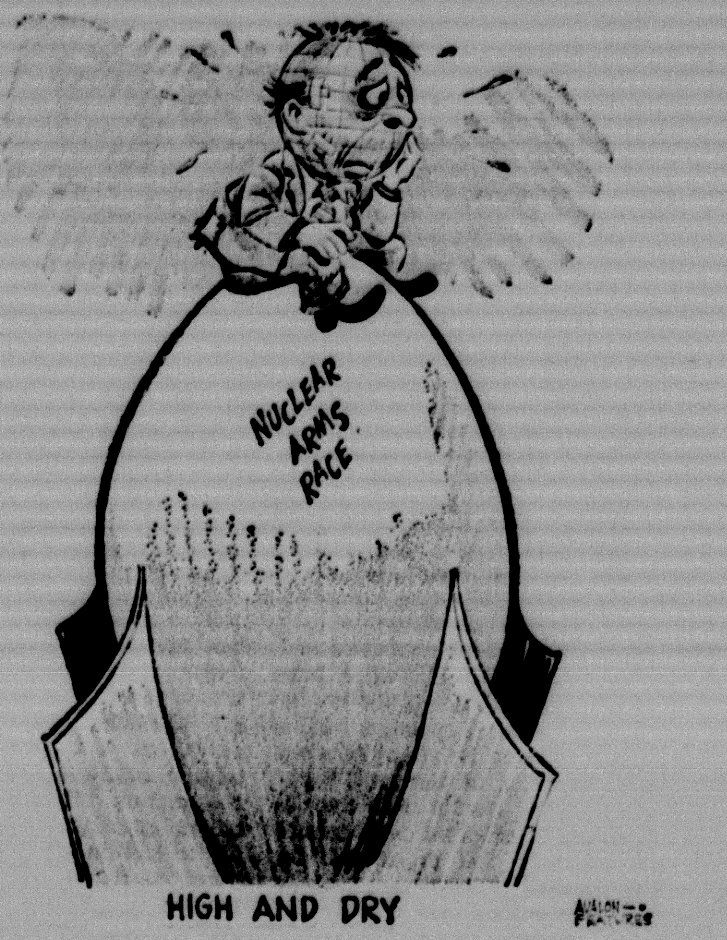
But what are we seeing in Cameron:

A library abuilding on East Fourth St.? A symphony orchestra scheduled at National Guard Armory? A new vitality in Cameron School District classrooms? Art exhibits at Town & Country fairs? A better appreciation of the Milam Heritage?

Is it all impractical? Or are we not also seeing:

Better facilities in Milam schools? An industrial foundation set with "sites" for the funding and development? An expansion of the airport? Continuous remodeling of downtown buildings? Appraisal of municipal needs? Prospect of a master plan with which to work? The youngest business community in 40 years?

If this is not revival, if this is not renaissance, what is?



HIGH AND DRY

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Sage Believes Guaranteed Annual Income Ultimately Will Require Assurance Of Hours Worked

Dear editar:

According to a newspaper which once more I had to go to town and buy, this makes twice this year and proves for sure these are uncertain times we're living in, the newest suggestion out of Washington is that everybody ought to have a guaranteed income.

While it's still only in the planning and talking stage, as I understand it the Federal government would guarantee that everybody has an annual income of at least $3,000. I don't know how the figure of $3,000 was decided on, but I wouldn't quarrel with it, it's a good round sum, although actually you can print $4,000 or $5,000 in the same space, doesn't cost anymore from a printing standpoint and would produce a lot more buying power.

The article I read said the details haven't been worked out yet, and this is what worries me.

What I mean is, say they settle on $3,000, I won't argue about that I not only never did like to look a a gift horse in the mouth, I've never even been very fond of looking any horse in the mouth, I've never even been fascinated by looking under the hood of a car.

No use worrying about the figure, if one man can get elected Congressman promising $3,000, another can beat him promising $4,000, the idea is to get the program going, when we need the figure increased somebody will be around to run on it, everybody knows dependability is supposed to be rewarded with a raise. But it's the details that I'm interested in.

For example, how do I know some smart alec in Washington is not going to say, Look, if we are going to guarantee him an annual income, why shouldn't we make him work for it? Why not a minimum of 40 hours of work a week?

That's what I'm talking about. A guaranteed minimum income is one thing, but requiring so many hours of work a year to get it is none of the government's business. Haven't we still got free enterprise in this country? Why should the long arm of Federal intervention be reaching out to check on how I spend my time? Hasn't Washington got something else to do? I tell you, Federal encroachment on the individual has got to stop.

After we get that work angle eliminated, you reckon there's any chance of getting a guaranteed free subscription to a newspaper included in the bill?

Yours faithfully,

J.A.

$Request Upped For Universities

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

While the Legislature in special session on voter registration grabbed the headlines, far-reaching developments were afoot in the field of higher education, last week.

Coordinating Board for Texas Colleges and Universities recommended a whopping increase of nearly $160,000,000 in appropriations for its state institutions during the coming biennium.

That would brnig the total 1967-68 spending level to $429,100,000 for the tax-supported college-university system, including $52,800,000 for public junior colleges.

Board also concluded that "primary responsibility" for doctoral degree programs should be restricted to four schools: The University of Texas, Texas A & M University, Texas Technological College and the University of Houston. Doctoral programs at other instructionns will be terminated by Sept. 1, 1968. Exceptions were allowed for North Texas State University and Texas Women's, Denton, which will be allowed to continue higher degree programs now under way, pending further study. Consideration will be given to Arlington State College's offering joint doctoral degrees in the Fort Worth-Dallas area with the two Denton institutions.

Law school training, said the Board, should in the future be limited to the University of Texas, Univesity of Houston and Texas Tech, and existing medical schools should continue under UT jurisdiction.

A preliminary report on the role and scope of junior colleges recommended that these nistructions should provide a full two-year college transfer program at the freshman and sophomore level, plus technical, vocational, adult and continuing education programs.

Seven state schools were placed on a priority list to share $7,097,742 in federal matching funds released through the U.S. Office of Education to be used for undergraduate building projects.

Funds will go to Stephen F. Austin State College, Sam Houston State College, Southwest Texas State College, Texas Technological University, Lamar State College of Technology, Southwestern Assemblies of God College and the University of Houston.

LEGISLATURE WARMS UP

Some state lawmakers warmed up for bigger battles ahead during their February special session, while others said a fond farewell to the state capitol.

Plenty of familiar faces will be found in both houses in the regular session next year, despite effects of legislative redistricting.

Forty-nine incumbent representatives have no opponents in the Democratic primary. Incubments are running against each other in four House races. There will be new faces in the House, too, for there are no incumbents running in 48 districts.

Fourteen incumbent senators face no Democratic opposition. Five sets of senators are paired off against each other, insuring a total of 19 oldtimers in the 31-member body next year.

OIL ALLOWABLE UP

Texas oil production for March may be at the highest level since May, 1959, due to an increase in the allowable for the sixth straight month.

Railroad Commission set the figure at 33.2 per cent of capacity. Market demand factor was highest granted since the percentage formula was adopted on Jan. 1, 1963.

Production ceiling for next month is 3,100,000 barrels daily. Commission set 32.7 per cent as production pattern for February.

TEACHERS SEEK RAISE

Texas State Teachers Association plans to ask the next Legislature to bring the salary of teachers up to the national average.

That would mean a boost of about $556 to reach the $6,506 average. mark. A $553 hike last year cost $101,000,000.

TSTA notes Texas teachers now rank 29th in the nation paywise.

Teachers' lekislative goes for 1967 also include five days a year authorized sick leave and retirement system improvements.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS

Personal property, not exempt from forced sale, can be levied on seized and sold by the tax collector for delinquent taxes, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held in opinion requested by Bosque County Atty. Charles H. Bolton of Meridian.

In a variety of other opinions, Carr ruled that:

Two articles of the new Code of Criminal Procedure requiring misdemeanor justice of peace court trials only in precinct where offenses were committed are unconstitutional.

Fees allowed peace officers under code can be assessed persons convicted of misdemeanors only where prescribed duties actually have been performed.

Residence property of Cameron Independent School District used by school superintendent and his family is not exempt from taxation.

Interest on time deposits or short term investments of restricted funds may be expended only for the stated purpose of the restricted funds.

A school district may legally use available surpluses from operation of cafeterias to provide lunches for needy pupils on fniding a board of trustees.

State Department of Health must provide material necessary for tuberculosis examination of first and seventh grade children on request of local health officials but is not required to conduct TB examinations.

State constitution prohibits payment of short-term cancellation premium for "errors and omissions" insurance policy on county clerks and deputies.

State Comptroller may require additional bonds to secure payment of motor fuel tax.

Search warrant may be issued to search for venison obtained by killing deer out of season.

ANTI-POVERTY PROJECTS

Four Community Action Program grants under the Economics Opportunity Act and one Volunteer in Service to America (VISTA) project won approval of Gov. John Connally.

Four CAP grants went to groups in Dallas, Brownsville and Beaumont, and to the Alabama-Coushatta Reservation Tribal Council in Livingston. They totalled $182,467.

THE WORK BENCHES OF GOD

Christians are not turned out on assembly lines.

The skill and patience of many a human soul, the blueprint of Christ's own example, and the unseen but mighty craftsmanship of the Creator Himself—these over the decades bring forth a noble Christian life.

There must be understanding, guidance, faith. There must be a Christian home with sincere, loving parents. There must be prayer, the Bible, worship, thought, study. And at length practice and persistence must win many a victory over self before the world begins to recognize the hand of God in the life of a man.

Nearby in the church you will choose, there are busy hands at the work benches of God.

And room for more—your child's and your own!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HORSTMANN BROTHERS

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Spoken In Jest

Several guests at a party, exchanging idle gossip, were startled to hear one man confide that the hostess had committed adultery.

In due course this remark reached the ears of the hostess herself. Being totally innocent, she lost no time in suing the man for defamation of character.

At the trial, he protested that he had been speaking only in jest—with no guilty intent. But he was held liable anyhow. The court noted that, whatever his intent the remark had been taken seriously by his audience.

The law of defamation is shaped by the meaning of word defamation: injury to reputation. The key issue is whether the victim's good name has been soiled in the minds of others.

Thus, in judging a joke, the law is less interested in how the speaker meant it than in how the audience took it.

In fact, the very same words might be harmless, when told to one kind of audience, yet defamatory when told to another.

For instance: an after-dinner speaker told an insulting story about one of the guests of honor. But it was an "in" joke, clear enough to everyone at the dinner. Unhappily, the story was reported-straight-to the general public the next day. This was held defamatory, since the larger audience, not being "in," would naturally take the story to be true.

What if the humor is reasonably obvious, but the victim himself can't see anything funny about it? Again, since the law is concerned with reputation, the victim's own reaction is less important than the reaction of others. Thus:

A man claiming insurance for a fire loss received a joshing letter from the insurance agent, an old friend. Among other things, the agent wrote:

"You must need money. Otherwise, there would have been no occasion for the fire."

Not at all amused, the man sued for defamation. But a court found no liability, since a third party who read the letter could tell it was not to be taken seriously. The court added:

"Men daily use accusing words toward each other in a spirit of playful, friendly banter. Such is considered the peculiar privelege of intimate friends."

Camp Named UT CLASP Chairman

The University of Texas Development Board has announced that Emory B. Camp has been appointed as University of Texas CLASP chairman for Cameron.

CLASP (College Loyalty Alumni Support Program) is a cooperative effort by alumni of Texas colleges and universities--private, demoninational, and public--joining hands to strengthen higher education in Texas and at the same time to provide financial assistance to help upgrade various programs of their alma maters.

March 7 through April 7 has been designated by Governor Connally as CLASP Month in Texas.

Former Governor Price Daniel is the state-wide Chairman for Texas CLASP 1966.

There are about 30 UT graduates living in Cameron and many are serving as CLASP volunteers.

IRS Answers Tax Questions

(Editor's Note: This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q - I made less than $10,000 last year, includnig niterest on a savings account. Will I be able to use the short form when I file?

A - Assuming you are otherwise qualified, you can use the card form 1040A if all but $200 or less of your income consisted of wages reported on withholding statements and the remainder consisted of wages reported on withholding statements and the remainder consisted of either wages not reported on witholding statements, dividends or interest.

If any of your income came from a capital gain, for example, you could not use the short form.

Q - What do you have to do to be aie to claim someone as a dependent? I support my mother's brother but I've been told that I can't claim him since he's not a member of my household.

A - Since your uncle is one of the blood relations listed in the law, he need not be a member of your household to qualify as a dependent. You must meet the other requirements, too, however. They are the support test, gross income test, citizenship or resident test, and the joint return test. See the 1040 instructions for explanation.

Q - Does a common law marriage entitle you to file a joint return?

A - If a couple is living together in a common law marriage recognized by the state in which it was entered into, a joint return may be filed.

Q - Is there any limit on what you can deduct per week for sick pay?

A - Yes, there is. After the 30-day waiting period the maximum is $100 a week. Details on the sick-pay exclusion for the first 30 days are given in the 1040 instructions.

Q. Some years back I had some medical expenses that I was able to deduct on my return. Then I could only deduct that amount that exceeded a percentage of my income. Does that still apply?

A - Yes, this limitation still applies for those under 65 years of age. Only medical expenses exceeding 3 percent of adjusted gross income may be deducted when you itemize. Medicine and drug expense must exceed 1 percent of adjusted gross income before inclusion in medical expense for the 3 percent reduction. For those 65 and over and their spouses, all medical, medicine, and drug expenses that qualify may be totally deducted.

Q - How should I handle severance pay? Can I spread it out over several years?

A - Income is taxable in the year it is received. However, if the severance pay boosted your income by more than one-third what it normally is then the income averaging provisions of the law may help you. Ask for Schedule G of Form 1040 at any IRS office to get full details on this.

Q - I had some major purchases last year like a new car, color TV and dishwasher. Can I add the sales tax I paid on these items to the amount listed in the state tax table?

A - Yes and no. You may use both the sales tax table and add the actual amount of deductible tax paid on your car. Other large purchases such as the TV and dishwasher are already allowed for in the tax table.

Q - I worked on a farm last summer. Can you tell me why my boss withheld for Social Security but not for income tax?

A - According to the law, most agricultural workers are not subject to income tax withholding. These workers are required to estimate their yearly income on Form 1040's and pay their tax quarterly. Social Security taxes, however, must be withheld.

Q - My son is in medical school and I've been providing more than half his support. Can I calim him as a dependent even though he is over 21?

A - Age is not a determining factor in whether he is your dependent or not. If you provide more than half his support then you may continue to claim him as a dependent provided, in case he is married, that he has not filed a joint return with his wife.

Q - Three times last year I sold a few shares of stock in a company I have been investing in for years. How do I determine the purchase price of the shares for each sale as I bought them at various times at various prices?

A - The principle that applies here when no other price identification can be made is "first-in, first-out." In other words, conside the shares you sold first to be the second ones you sold and so on.

Q - The mutual fund I own shares in made a capital gains distribution last year. Do I pay tax on it now or when I sell my shares?

A - Report this as capital gains on Schedule D of Form 1040 for the year it was received or allocated to you.

Q - How should I handle my home sale? I sold my old one at a profit but most of this gain was absorbed by the higher cost of my new home.

A - In general, profits from the sale of a residence are taxable. However, if another home is purchased within a certain period, the tax on the gain is deferred if the cost of the new home equals or exceeds the adjusted sales price of the old home. Special rules apply for persons 65 or older before the date of sale or exchange.

Details on these provisions are given in IRS Document No. 5017, "Selling Your Home." Write your District Director for a free copy.

Q - To help my daughter and son-in-law out, I pay the mortgage payments on their house about 4 or 5 5imes a year. Can I deduct the interest and tax portions of these payments on my return?

A - No, these are not deductible for you. Only the person legally responsible for making the payments may take the allowable deduction, and then only if he actually pays them.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Are You Falling Into a Rut?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

Some sage once said, "The only difference between a rut and a grave is its dimensions." It is easy to fall into a rut without knowing it. Try these questions as a hint whether or not you are becoming too set in your ways.

	YES	NO
1. Do you enjoy meeting new people?	( )	( )
2. Would you enjoy having a new pet?	( )	( )
3. Do you enjoy experimenting?	( )	( )
5. Do you (or would you) like to travel?	( )	( )
6. Do you get a thrill out of new clothing?	( )	( )
7. Do you hesitate to try an unknown dish of food?	( )	( )
8. Can you recall two new ideas you have learned (or thought of) in the last week?	( )	( )

ANSWERS: Give yourself one point for every YES to 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 8. Give yourself one point if you answered NO to 4 and 7.

ANALYSIS: 6-8 points: No rut for you. You are having fun.
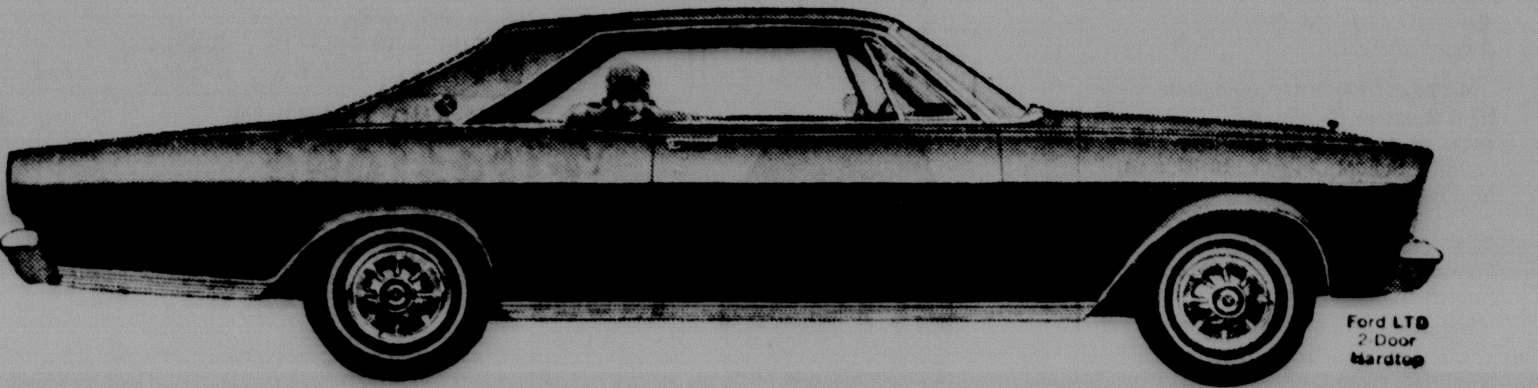
3-5 points: One foot in a rut, the other working nicely.
0-2 points: You are swathed in your personal pattern. Better start living.

BONUS QUESTION. Did you enjoy taking this quiz?

(If you answer YES, add one more point to your score, for it shows you are curious. No curious person is really in a true rut.)

I can't tie my shoes yet. But I can change the stereo tape cartridge in our '66 Ford. You just pop it in. Our Ford also has a light that warns my father if a door's ajar. And one switch that locks all doors. Ford makes things work easy.

(I wish they made shoes.)



Slip your feet into a fast-selling '66 Ford and see how easy life can be. Take Ford's handy twin-edge ignition key and start one of the world's quietest riding cars. ■ Turn on Ford's stereo tape player (available on all models) and enjoy the music of your choice. ■ Lock or unlock all doors with one switch on the optional Safety/Convenience Control Panel. ■ Settle back in the rich interior of an LTD by Ford. ■ Try Ford's Magic Doorgate for wagons: Swings out like a door for people and down like a tailgate for cargo. ■ Discover Ford's Engineering Magic for yourself. CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my deep gratitude and appreciation to all my friends who so kindly remembered me with their visits and beautiful cards during the days I spent at the St. Edward Hospital. I also want to thank Rev. Frank Simcik for his visits and prayers, also thanks to Dr. S. H. Richardson and all the nurses who cared for me. A deep gratitude goes to all my friends and neighbors for their visits at home and gifts of food. May God bless you all.

Mrs. Albina Kohut

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank the members of Battetown Baptist Church, Rev. Bob Wimberly and the many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness in our time of need.
